

2009 “Landscapes of Industry and Transport of North-Central Mexico: Monclova and Torreón, Coahuila.” Journal of Big Bend Studies, Vol. XXI, pp. 179-200.

2009 “Contemporary Urban Landscapes of the Rio Grande Valley of South Texas: The Geography of Inland Ports” Southwestern Geographer, Vol. 11 (2007): 92-112.

2008 “Globalization and the Evolving Port Landscape of Progreso.” In: Eric Baklanoff and Edward Moseley, eds., Yucatan in an Era of Globalization, pp. 42-68. Tuscaloosa: University of Alabama Press.

Academic Appointments:

Adjunct Instructor, University of Central Arkansas, January 2018 to Present.

Associate Professor of Geography, UCA (August 2008 to December 2017). Director, Master of Science, Community and Economic Development Program (October 2009 to December 2017).

Associate Professor of Geography, Texas A&M International University, Department of Social Sciences (September 2002 to May 2008).

Assistant Professor of Geography, Texas A&M International University, Department of Social Sciences (September 1995 to August 2002).

Temporary Instructor of Geography, Francis Marion University, Department of Political Science and Geography
August 1994 to May 1995.

Acting Assistant Professor of Geography, Louisiana Tech University, Department of Social Sciences September 1991 to May 1992.

Current Interests:

Cargo Transportation Infrastructure: Policy and Geography

US-Mexico Border Region: Economic Development

Political Geography of Transportation

Economic Development of Small Cities

Urban Geography and Urban Planning: Mexico, the U.S.